Newhaven fishwives by Belfield & Co, Prestonpans, Circa 1880

Mike Allan BSc., PhD., All Antiques Limited, specialises in antique Scottish pottery, provincial silver and semi-precious jewellery.

With his detailed knowledge of buying at Scottish auctions and by private treaty, Mike can be commissioned to search for antiques, in Scotland, that your customers wish. He regularly finds English and continental items that are "stranded up north", ideal for resale.

Mike already buys and sells in the trade. He is your ideal partner for locating and buying antiques that either cannot be found on the internet, or that require proper inspection, and the personal touch, before purchase. With almost 30 years in sales & marketing and negotiation, he will do his best to achieve the most favourable purchase terms on behalf of you and your clients.

His services are backed up by an escrow service and a full shipping capability.

Please call Mike for a chat and to discuss business terms.
